

Treating Hoarding Disorder

This full day workshop is on the treating individuals with excessive saving or hoarding disorder based on the treatment model developed by the London Hoarding Treatment Group. Hoarding disorder remains one of the most challenging conditions to treat. This workshop is intended to support clinicians develop innovative creative methods to engage and treat the presenting issues.

The aims of the workshop are:

- Understand hoarding disorder appreciate the complexities, considerations for treatment
- Formulate engage individuals, treating with creative and innovative interventions
- Active participation in the exercises

Participants are encouraged to bring along a personal item for the exercises.